Hello! My name is [redacted] I am writing an academic article for peer submission called "The Erotic Streets of Comics" where I also talk about the role of the woman and her sexuality within the streets. I want to ask if you would give me authorization to use the image "The mysteries of Barcelona" to illustrate the academic article. Thank you so much for your attention in advance. [redacted]

As long it's not for commercial use and as long you get the credits right you can use any illustration of mine. Best A
